CFOs and other C-suite executives know: a changing economy, and regulatory environment bring new challenges. At IMA, we provide the tools—best practice research, peer networks, publications, and education programs—to turn challenges into opportunities.

“...the time is right for the Chief Financial Officer to be a co-leader... A CEO-CFO partnership will provide the engine for [the] new millennium corporation, and serve as a starting point for the new corporate model of ethical behavior, sustainability and true stakeholder value.”

The Wall Street Journal, August 17, 2009
